RENEWING OUR CULTURE OF INVITATION

Knights of Columbus®

RESOURCE FOR OUTREACH TO NEW MEMBERS FOR USE AT THE STATE, DISTRICT AND COUNCIL LEVELS
BY FRATERNAL LEADERS AND AGENTS.

NOT FOR PUBLIC DISSEMINATION.

PREPARED BY KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS – OCTOBER 2024

When Father Michael McGivney called that first meeting in St. Mary’s basement, he asked Catholic men to join him. More than 80 responded. Why? Because Father McGivney invited them to be part of something greater than themselves — something for which their souls were yearning. And from that first meeting, they laid the groundwork for the Knights of Columbus.

From the beginning, Father McGivney created a culture for the Knights — a “culture of invitation,” in which Catholic men ask other Catholic men to join them in a great work.

These early members embraced that culture from the start. They went out and invited others. And one by one, council by council, our Order grew.

By inviting men, we’re offering them access to the support they need to raise their families in the faith, protect their loved ones, build a culture of life and help those in need. As the first and most important step, we’re pointing them to Jesus Christ.

This is why Father McGivney extended that first invitation. It’s why we’re calling on all brother Knights to fully live out this renewed culture of invitation.

A BRIEF TIMELINE

Our culture of invitation began with our Founder, Blessed Michael McGivney, and 80 men who embraced that invitation, culture and mission. These men went out and invited others, and one man at a time, one council at a time, our Order has grown to more than 2 million members from around the world.

1882

It began with an invitation by Blessed McGivney and 80 men who responded ‘Yes’

1885

Order grows beyond Connecticut

1897

Order grows to Canada

1910

Order continues to expand internationally into Mexico, Cuba, Panama and the Philippines.

2024

+2.1 million members in 17 countries

“Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men.”

– MT 4:19

Jesus invited his first disciples. Father McGivney invited Catholic men to the Order’s first meeting.

It’s our turn.

It sounds so simple, yet the data points to the compelling fact that millions of Catholic men are just waiting for the invitation. Last year, we commissioned CARA, the Center for Applied Research in the Apostolate, to look at Catholic men’s organizations. The goal was to learn why men join them, why some don’t, and for those who don’t, what factors would change their mind.

We learned that in the United States alone,

- 21 million Catholic men are not members of a Catholic men’s organization
- 7 million say they are willing to join the Knights of Columbus

Nearly half of all Catholic men say they’ve not joined the Knights – at least in part – because nobody has asked them to.

Think about that. Seven million new Knights. And there are millions more in Canada, Mexico and across Europe and Asia.

Also in 2023, we conducted a Membership Satisfaction survey, in which many of you participated. Responses showed 47% of members report they joined the Order because they were invited to do so by a friend, family member or pastor. However, 33% of us have never asked men to join, and 37% have only done so once or twice a year.

Catholic men are waiting. They are waiting to be invited.

Just imagine if each of our 2.1 million members around the world invited one person to join this year. Imagine the impact we would have on our culture and world. We’re calling on every Knight to follow the example of Blessed Michael McGivney and our Lord Jesus Christ – to foster a culture in which we don’t wait for someone to come up to us. Rather, we go out and invite our Catholic brothers to join us in our mission to something greater.

Let us be the fishers of men God is calling us to be.

“ I envision the day when we will have four or five million (members). Imagine the impact — the communities we could help, the parishes we could serve, and the lives we could change.

3. RESOURCES

We must breathe new life into our tried-and-true method of person-to-person recruiting by extending a personal invitation.

Use this toolkit and the resources available on SUPPLIES ONLINE to renew your and your council's commitment to a culture of invitation.

1. HOW TO INVITE SOMEONE

Filled with the Holy Spirit, the first Apostles went out, two by two. Like them, we are not alone – we are supported by our brother Knights.

Use this simple guide to initiate and renew a culture of invitation in your state, council and own personal life.

Identifying People To Ask

The first step to extending the invitation is to identify someone to ask. The first and simplest place to start is with men in the pews. Men who regularly attend Mass are prime candidates to become Knights of Columbus. Even if you've asked someone a while ago, try again. Consider attending a different Sunday Mass than you normally do. You might see men you've never asked to join or talked to about the Knights.

Another place to identify prospective Knights is among your friends and family. Sometimes we assume these men already know we're Knights, so if they wanted to join they would tell us. But that's not how it works! We should invite them first, not wait for them to ask.

Finally, think about your coworkers and other acquaintances. Perhaps you've noticed in subtle ways that some are Catholic—someone who has a rosary hanging from his rearview mirror, or another who mentions he's going to a relative's First Communion. Ask them! Even if they wouldn't be a member of your council, let them know they can join online and then transfer to a council.

1. HOW TO INVITE SOMEONE

Use conversation starters like these to begin your invitation:

Hi, my name is [NAME]. I've seen you and your family at Mass, and I want to invite you to join our council. I think you'd be a great addition to our council and I think you and your family would really benefit too. Can I help you complete the online application right now?

Our council is looking for strong Catholic men who want to grow in their faith and give back to the community. You'd be a great addition to our team. How about we fill out an online application to get started?

Be prepared to talk about any of the following areas that might align with the prospective member's interests. It may be helpful to speak from your personal experience, but remember that the conversation should center on what the prospective member is interested in.

Charity

- “ Would you like to learn more about how we...
- Help promote a culture of life
 - Provide warmth to children in need
 - Support persecuted Christians...”

Faith Formation

- “ When I put Christ at the center of my life, everything changed...”
- “We've recently launched Cor, a series of in-person gatherings that form and strengthen men in faith and virtue. Would you like to learn more about it?”

Catholic Finance

- “ Blessed Michael McGivney founded the Knights as a Catholic fraternal benefit society to protect Catholic families financially. Today, we offer...”
- “As a fraternal benefit society centered on Christ and charity, we use the surplus from our insurance and other business activities to make a big charitable impact – while helping members draw closer to Christ...”

1. HOW TO INVITE SOMEONE

Overcoming Objections

Sometimes when we ask a man to join the Knights of Columbus, he has reasons to hesitate. We should be prepared to discuss them. Below are common objections along with responses that have proven effective to help overcome them:

“ I don't have time.

- ▶ Being a Knight isn't about attending things. It's about living out your commitment to being the man God has called you to be. I've found that being with the Knights at whatever events I'm able to attend helps me become that man. The first step is joining, and we can do that right now.
- ▶ I understand. Being a Knight isn't a huge time commitment, though. Very few men can attend everything. But even with as little as 24 hours a year – that's only two hours a month – you can make a huge impact as a Knight of Columbus.

Order 24 Hours Can Change Your Life: Investing Your Time in the Knights of Columbus brochure now available on SUPPLIES ONLINE.

“ I don't want to be away from my family.

- ▶ Your time is valuable, especially if you have a young family! Father McGivney cared deeply for families, and I believe following his example helps Knights become better husbands and fathers. If you find that your time at council activities isn't doing that, then yes, please prioritize your time at home. However, I've discovered that time invested in the Knights is time invested in my marriage, my family and my own growth as a disciple of Jesus Christ.
- ▶ Our council does many activities involving the whole family, such as faith formation, service opportunities and even social events. [Be as specific as possible with what your council does].

“ Knights of Columbus is for older men – there's no one my age in the council.

- ▶ This may be true. But the only way to continue our Founder's mission is if younger men like you join. We need your perspective so our council and the Order can continue to evolve and meet today's needs. Will you join us and invite a friend to come with you?
- ▶ When the Knights first began, Father McGivney was only 28 years old. The men he gathered were in their 30s and 40s, all working men and young fathers. Our legacy is to be a young family man's organization – you can help us write that next chapter!

“ I'm already a member of a different Catholic/men's organization.

- ▶ That's wonderful – thank you for being involved in that ministry! Many of our members are also part of it. We want Knights who strive to be fully engaged in the life of the Church, in whatever ways they feel called to. It sounds like you're doing just that and can bring a wonderfully fresh perspective to our council, as well.
- ▶ It's great that you have other ways to be involved in different aspects of the Church. Knights of Columbus offers both spiritual and financial benefits. As a member you gain access to these. (See Fraternal Benefits on page 10.)

1. HOW TO INVITE SOMEONE

Tips to Remember

1. Rally the support of your spiritual leaders (chaplains, pastors, deacons, etc.).
2. Work with your leadership and local K of C field agents – you are not alone.
3. Demonstrate good listening skills so you can effectively see where the man's needs and wants align with our Order's mission, programs and benefits.
4. Prepare and practice – identify a few questions that will help the other person to open up and your favorite conversation starters.
5. Involve your families – this is a decision that will impact the entire family, so ensure you are not only speaking with the man but his family as well.
If willing, ask your wife to share her perspective with them.
6. Go out with courage and connect with other Catholic men.
7. Use the resources available to you – share them widely and frequently.
8. Pray throughout.

2. FRATERNAL BENEFITS – WHY JOIN?

Every Catholic man should know what the Knights of Columbus has to offer him.

Why join?

- ▶ 1. Faith formation resources and opportunities to help you and your family deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ

Cor

Taking their name from the Latin word for heart, Cor gatherings form and strengthen Catholic men in faith and virtue as missionary disciples by drawing them into a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ through prayer, formation, and fraternity.

In less than two years, more than 650 councils have started Cor, and nearly 4,000 more have plans to start this transformational initiative in the coming year.

Clearly, men are longing for spiritual growth and community. For this reason, every council should be implementing Cor.

Programs suitable for Cor gatherings

Men of the Word Bible study – A Bible study program providing Catholic men with a foundation to read and reflect on the living word of God.

Into the Breach: Mission of the Family – A video series with actionable insights for husbands and fathers, viewed more than 1.5 million times since its launch in 2023.

Catholic Information Service – Resources that help answer questions about the faith.

[General prospect]

Subject line: Come and see what the Knights of Columbus has to offer

Dear [PROSPECT NAME],

It's hard being a faithful Catholic – and it's even harder without community. That's why I want to invite you to come and get to know our Knights of Columbus council.

The Knights were founded in 1882 by Blessed Michael McGivney, a parish priest now on the path to sainthood. He called a group of men together to grow in faith as a community, protect their families and serve the Church.

Today in our local council, that mission looks like: [PERSONALIZE WITH EXAMPLES SPECIFIC TO YOUR COUNCIL]

- Coming together at Cor, a major Knights of Columbus initiative that takes its name from the Latin word for heart and unites men in person for a time of prayer, faith formation and fraternity
- Charitable work such as distributing Coats for Kids, supporting our local pregnancy resource centers and providing financial aid to our seminarians
- Making sure members are aware of and connected with our local Knights of Columbus insurance agent. He's a great resource who can offer members a complimentary financial needs analysis, access to exclusive life insurance products and information on insurance benefits included in every membership at no extra cost.

I think you'd be a wonderful addition to our brotherhood. If you'd like to come and see what we're all about, I'm happy to let you know about upcoming events that would be perfect for first-time visitors.

Or, if you have any questions, I'd love to answer them.

Thanks for being open to this invitation!

In Christ,

[NAME]

P.S. If you're ready to join now, you can do it for free at: kofc.org/Join. Use our council number [NUMBER] as your referring council, and we'll be in touch!
